Sees Solid Front Against Germany

Fuehrer Charges Democracies and Bolshevism United Against Nazism Under Slogan Of "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity"

Demands Oppression of 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia Cease—Bloody Mockery of History

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 12.—Reich Fuehrer Hitler in one of the greatest oratorical efforts of his life threw down the gauntlet to Great Britain and France to-night, asserting that come what may Germany is determined to liberate the Sudeten Germans.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—An official foreign office spokesman, immediately after receipt of the speech of Adolf Hitler at Nuremberg today, said the French government interpreted the address as "postponing danger for a while."

NUREMBERG, Sept. 12.—"There are national questions for which I am ready to take all risks and run all dangers," Chancellor Hitler declared tonight. He demanded that Czechoslovakia give 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans "their rights" but did not indicate precisely what his intentions were toward Czechoslovakia.

Hitler talked passionately for 75 minutes. It was the climactic event of the tenth annual Nazi party congress.

But he left unanswered the question the world had waited anxiously to hear him discuss—Will Germany use force to achieve her ambitions for the Sudeten Germans?

Hitler made clear only that Germany was standing by to see that the Germanic minority obtained the "right of self-determination."

He Rules Out Idea Of Plebiscite

He ruled out the idea of a plebiscite because, he said, it "would only be conducted under British oppression."

The jammed congress hall cheered as Hitler attacked Czechoslovakia for "mistreating and oppressing" Sudeten Germans, whose demands for autonomy he supports. He declared they were "being systematically ruined and doomed to slow extinction."

NUREMBERG, Sept. 12.—"Chancellor Hitler told his cheering followers tonight that "we see democracy and Bolshevism arising in a solid front" against Nazi Germany.

The Fuehrer, opening the congress for which the world was waiting, spoke at length of what he called "the sufferings of the Nazi adherents in Austria before the annexation."

The first portion of his proclamation before the climactic hearing of the world was devoted to the "demands of the world" to revealing the party's fight for national power in Germany.

Then he turned to his attack against the Democracies and Bolshevism, asserting that Hitler was against "Nazism under the slogan of Liberty, Equality, Fraternity."

"It is a bloody mockery of history," the Fuehrer continued, "that the Democracies are allied with the most brutal dictatorship in the world."

"It was they which attempted to hinder Italy's action in Ethiopia," Hitler said, "and the point that the Nazis had built Germany into a mighty nation again, Hitler turned to Czechoslovakia."

PREVENT ANY RAPE
"Scorn is being heaped on us today, but thank God we are in a position to prevent any rape of Germany," he declared.

"I am now speaking about Czechoslovakia. This state was founded according to Democratic principles."

"As these Democratic principles are applied, millions of people are being manhandled and suppressed. It is the duty of the German people to convince the world that Czechoslovakia has a special political right to national power in Germany."

SYSTEMATICALLY RUINED
"Three and a half million Germans in Czechoslovakia are being systematically destroyed and doomed to slow extinction."

"The depriving of these human beings of all rights must come to an end. The Fuehrer continued, "But the German chancellors held out an olive branch to France."

"Strasbourg means much, but we have surrendered it in the interests of peace. To settle for one and for all the eternal strife against the Nazis had built Germany into a mighty nation again, Hitler turned to Czechoslovakia."

Bumper Crop Will Stimulate Trade Beatty Declares

Says Satisfactory Yield to Help More Than Any Other Development Since Depression—High Officials Here

This year's satisfactory grain crop should do more to stimulate business recovery in Canada than any development which has taken place since the advent of the depression, Sir Edward Beatty, G.B.E., K.C., L.L.D., Montreal, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and chancellor of McGill University, said Sunday as he arrived in Edmonton.

Sir Edward Beatty, who is on a western inspection tour, has as his guests on his present trip two directors of the railway company, James A. Richardson, of Winnipeg, and Ross H. McMaster, Montreal, two of the leading business executives in Canada.

Sir Edward declared a public inspection at this time today on "The Outlook for the North" at the MacDonald hotel under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Officials with Sir Edward Beatty and W. M. Noel, Winnipeg, vice-president western line, C. P. R. E. D. Cotterell, Calgary, general superintendent for company lines in Alberta, J. Ivan Mackay, superintendent for Edmonton district, and Hugh Campbell, Winnipeg, western press representative.

The present year's satisfactory grain crop will obviously stimulate recovery both in Western Canada and ultimately in Eastern Canada. I know of nothing since the depression began which equals it in importance as a stimulus to general recovery throughout the country," Sir Edward Beatty declared.

A new spirit of hope is visible on the prairie, he continued, pointing out that the recovery being made in the drought areas, even by such a late start, has been most encouraging.

NO EXTENSIONS
The autumn grain being planted immediately for the Northern Alberta Railways, and it is likely that the line from Grimshaw north will be undertaken.

I am honored by this invitation to address the Chamber of Commerce of this city of Edmonton. Your community is the seat of government of a great province, the heart of a famous university, and in itself a busy and progressive center of commerce. You share the advantages of other fine cities in Western Canada, and have certain opportunities offered to you by the decisions of the public authorities to make this the home of public institutions. You have, however, a special quality of local opportunity which you share with no other community.

The Dominion of Canada is one of the largest countries in the world. Almost three-quarters of the land area of the country is the great Laurentian shield and while we are year by year finding less and less to do here, we are year by year more coming to realize the value of this vast wilderness, and the house of wealth whose productive power is hidden in its bowels.

ABERHART HITS AT FINANCIERS DURING SPEECH

Says Two Per Cent. Of Population Own 70 Per Cent. Of All Wealth

Scoring monetary control of the country by financial interests, while thousands were suffering poverty, Premier William Aberhart hit the Edmonton Press-Ribble Conference at the Strathmore Sunday night when he said that two per cent of the population owned 70 per cent of all the wealth.

"Why is it that our farmers and laborers work hard long hours from early morning until late at night and are unable to get free from poverty while two per cent of our population, day after day, live in ease and comfort?" the premier asked.

Dwelling at length with the Alberta Press-Ribble Conference on the relations which have been produced of which we are all aware, Premier Aberhart said it had been prepared for the purpose of reforming in every way.

He declared "worse home and every other should have this opportunity of education so that both adults and children should get to know it in every way."

Laying his hands to read the brief, he said that "I wonder."

DIVORCE CASES ILLEGAL, SAYS JUDGE HOWSON

Far-Reaching Decision Is Made In U.S.

Exclusive to Edmonton Journal

CALGARY, Sept. 12.—(AP) Far-reaching importance in Alberta, in that it summarizes the law applicable in cases where residents of Alberta go to the United States to get divorces, of which divorces on grounds which are purely local, and which would not be grounds for divorce in Alberta, and where the parties do not actually become domiciled in the state in which the divorce is sought, a supreme court judgment was handed down here today.

The judgment finds that divorces granted under such circumstances nullified above are not divorces in reality. It is stated by many legal authorities here that a couple who are married in Alberta and who go to the United States to get a divorce, and who do not actually become domiciled in the state in which the divorce is sought, a supreme court judgment was handed down here today.

A Hand Full Of Beauty Adds World Of Glamor

Slimmer Your Figure in a Tailored Wrap—Arms Cotton Hosi or Beach Frock

By ALICIA HART
Hands that move, and slender figure, are a woman's greatest assets. Hands that are smooth and white, and perfectly rounded. No beauty-minded woman imagines for a moment that the appearance of her hands, arms and elbows, is even a little less important than the way her hair is done, her face is given fits or the looks of her face and throat.

Immediately after she steps going to the country or beach, even if she has to get the children out of school and is ready to pick up the thread of her social life in town, she receives her attention to routine which improve her hands. She makes sure that she has two bottles of hand lotion—one in the kitchen, the other in the bathroom. She applies lotions and massages into wrists and elbows and hands many times a day.

BLEACH OUT SUN-TAN

If she has decided to get rid of her sun-tan as quickly as possible, she bleaches the skin on hands and arms with plain, fresh lemon juice. She always remembers, however, to use fresh lemon, not the bottled lemon juice, as the latter has been applied, either to dry and clean off.

Two nights a week she massages some of her regular night cream into the hands and arms as well as face and neck. Or she may buy a jar of special cream, apply it to her hands and arms, and then, after her usual night cream, then wear clean, loose cotton gloves during the night.

She also may use a little bit of warm olive oil in two small bowls and soak her elbows in it while wearing her face skin. This oil that has olive oil treatments work on the hands and arms, that are rough and discolored.

She has or gives herself a thorough manicure once a week, at least once between manicures she uses her nails with the fine line of an emery board, smoothing away rough edges, then puts on a coat of fresh lacquer. She doesn't tolerate chipped or cracked polish for even an hour. The minute the nail, or nail, shows signs of wear, off it comes.

She never dips around the base of her nails with a sharp steel instrument, and she always lets a manicurist do the work. She pushes cuticle back with a towel after her manicure, and she uses a nail brush to clean the nail. And if the cuticle on one or two nails is particularly stubborn, she uses a nail file, she discards it via the cuticle remover, other manicurists will be methods.

NAILS ARE OFF-RED

This fall, she files her nails to medium-length oval, definitely leaving an extra long, pointed claw-like effect. And she likes to have her nails done in a fashionable shade. Her favorite polish may be a rich, deep shade, but it is more likely to be a wine-red or purplish than clear red.

According To Culbertson

By ELY CULBERTSON
There are many ingredients in the game known as good defense. Two of these are outstandingly important. First, a player must be able to "read" a lead. He must recognize whether the leader has any certain cards or whether the lead in itself is a denial of such a card. Once the leader is identified, the second prerequisite becomes fairly simple to select another suit that may be more vulnerable.

The bidding:
South 1 heart, West 2 diamonds, East 3 no trump, Pass.
South's four tricks and distribution should have been expected with an opening bid of one no trump rather than one heart. But this is merely an academic criticism inasmuch as the same final contract would have been reached.

West opened the spade jack and dealer, for reason best known to himself, went with dummy's king. He entered his own hand with a heart to the ace, and returned diamond towards dummy, finessing the ten spot. East won with the queen and gave careful consideration to his return. The play of the spade king and queen had been highly informative, although, of course, dealer had not realized that that could be the only opening lead of the spade jack two combinations. It was, of course, the top of a sequence, but it might be from a holding of J 10 9 8 or from A J 10 8 3. Which it was could be determined only by consideration of dealer's play. If dealer's spade holding had been the queen without any ace, he would not have dreamed of putting up dummy's king. As an elementary play to gain two extra tricks and stoppers he would have let the queen ride to the jack of the king.

Once East determined that it would be futile to proceed away at spades, he was less in the correct frame of mind to make a sacrifice. He returned his hand to the ace, and from that point on the

Raising A Family

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
It used to be called "night-work," but now it is tomorrow, the inference being that the electric night light need not be increased. There are lessons to be learned. You can get up an hour earlier when you come from school and begin your work when he left off an hour ago.

But regardless of name, the rose smells just as sweet, or as pungent as it always did. Most children do their house chores in the evening.

I never did it. I began like night work and still don't approve a lot, BUT—

Let us see how it is with school these days. Most of them, in spite of building and more building, are crowded. In some cases, children are up for one session. There is no time in school then for anything but recitations. Study simply has to be done at home.

In other places, both sessions have been shortened by popular vote, the day being that four hours a day are enough for a child to sit without exercise. The theory is that if that measure is also taken that after long periods of concentration the mind needs to be kept refreshed and rested.

As grade work has to be covered in a given time, the teacher has no other way to extend the day's work to the home. Even with full time spent in school, it is often necessary.

I do know this—that teachers are giving less outside work than they used to. But naturally the amount increases from grade to grade as capacity for work increases.

This being the case, it would be easier for our children if we arranged a quiet place for them to study. The radio should be turned off, completely. David or Martha says they can do better work with it on, but they can't do it with it off as well. But turn it off anyway. There are no other means of concentration with an accompaniment. But music has been known to help thought. But one of the student I have never noticed practicing by radio, and I am sure study very much and it is all the

'Peg Bombers Battle Regina On Home Field

WINNIPEG, Sept. 12.—The old story of the irrepressible force and the immovable body will be repeated tonight at Winnipeg's Osborne Stadium.

Dean Griffing's Regina Roughriders in this case the immovable force, and Reg Threlkoff's Winnipeg Peg Bombers, the irresistible force, lock horns in the biggest battle of this young Western Intercollegiate Football Union season. More than 6,000 will witness the spectacle. In two games to date the Peg Bombers have held the opposition scoreless. They whipped Edmonton 19-0 in the season's opener and turned back Carl Cronin's Calgary Roughriders last Monday.

Blue Bombers, possessing the most diversified scoring attack they have shown, smothered Regina's Edmonton entry 33-0 after taking their inaugural triumph at Regina, 40-0.

Bombers, however, may be without one of its leading scorers, Paul Derringer, who was trying for his 20th triumph of the year. The Regina Roughriders, who were led by Stan Hawk, who registered both touchdowns and a field goal.

Eaton, Johnson Heavily Shelled

By JACK DEARLY

ARMY and Navy Cardinals tied-off on two Arrow pitchers Sunday afternoon at Renfrew Park, unloaded their heaviest hitting jamboree of base knocks since the start of the series and beat the Bombers by a 10-7 score. Their win settled the 50 series baseball championship to a seventh and deciding game.

Cardinals, clubbing Buck Eaton from the mound in less than an inning and continuing their spree against Walter Johnson, "iced" the game in the early innings, later piling on a commanding margin in the eighth frame. The result of their convincing triumph doctored the best-of-five games final at three wins each.

The seventh and deciding game will be played at the Renfrew diamond next Sunday. A win either way carries the league hunting.

Canadian Trio Shooting For U.S. Golf Title

OAKMONT, Ont., Sept. 12.—A gentle drizzle dampened the words and steps of the three finest Canadian Amateur Golf tournament Sunday as the east of more than 100 golfers gathered for the two-day 36-hole qualifying test, which got under way after the Oakmont Country club course this morning.

In the vanguard is Johnny Good, the defending champion, and Charley Yates, who finished runner-up in the 1932 Canadian Open. These two Canadians were on hand to show their prowess in the tournament.

Bob Ross (Montreal) and Walter Brown (Ottawa) were also on hand to show their prowess in the tournament.

LET LOOSE BLAST

As the Cards went to bat one could almost hear the crowd's anticipation. Two were out and only one on base when Manager McGraw ordered a full-on attack. LONDON—George Myers, T. "can beat his age" at 70. He has a hand of eight and still is reducing it. He won the April card at his club with a 70 and in July posted a 71 to win.

windows over the south entrance to the store when the fire broke out. The girls on the staff were leaving the building. She suffered a cut forehead, her wound being dressed in the T. Eaton store.

Captain Jack Smith, veteran fireman, required a medical dressing on his eye after some dirt flew into it at the height of the flames.

Their lives endangered, four of the stockroom employees of the store, Mrs. B. J. Storey, Mrs. Miller, Ralph Candy and James McGee, who were on the roof during the first stages of the fire, were rescued by flames and were enabled to safety by firemen.

Flames under the roof had burned the supports under them, and their feet went through the roof in several places before flames got down a fire ladder. One of the firefighters was caught in the corner of the roof, also, and had to take to the parapet to get back to his ladder safety.

While the official version of the cause of the fire will be issued by Fire Marshal Jack Booth, kitchen help in the store gave their story of the blaze Saturday.

FIRE CAUSE

Interviewed regarding the cause of the fire, Lydia Komari, assistant cook in the Metropolitan kitchen, made the following statement: "I was helping the chief cook making French-fried potatoes when the grease in the fryer caught fire and boiled over onto the stove. In an instant the gas flame caught fire, the grease and the stove became a sheet of fire. The flames worked up through the ventilating flues and spread to the upper floors of the building. Soon after that the firemen arrived and we left the kitchen. By that time the crowd had left the store and the street seemed filled with firemen."

BELOINGERS SAVED

Ella McLaughlin, lunch counter employee, "I had just arrived at 11:50 a.m. to go to work and was amazed to see smoke pouring out of the building. I was later called to the police, but I met some of the girls from the counters carrying out coats and purses from the stock room on the second floor. They saved all the clothing and purses belonging to the sales staff. I did not lose a coat or purse was lost."

Ruby Walker, waitress, "I just got to the store in time to see the crowd filing out. They all seemed quite orderly and seemed to be very little disturbed about the fire. The girls from the store were calmer than the crowd on the street."

GIVES ALARM

Constable R. J. Dunlop, of the city police, turned in the alarm at 11:55 a.m. and firemen from the main station at 11:56 a.m. arrived at the scene and at 11:58 a.m. a second alarm was sounded. General alarm, calling station six, seven and eight and all men in the department, was given at 12:05. Off-duty men were called to the main station to man the reserve equipment in the stations.

Calling of the general alarm brought 11 lines of hose from all hydrants in the vicinity into play.

HUGE CROWD

Running unimpeded through a three-foot space between the walls of the stock room on the third floor and the roof, the fire broke through the floor in the south-east corner. Dense black smoke from the heated roof was swept across the city by a north-west wind, while a crowd estimated at about 4,000 watched the leaping flames from the street and the roofs of nearby buildings. Station policemen kept aside for the firefighters.

Danger of the fire spreading to other buildings was never great, as the flames were contained by the roof of the stock room. Just the roof of the stock room, while practically all of the store was damaged either by fire or by falling debris or smoke. Store officials valued the building, first opened in 1923, and said it was one of the best of the Metropolitan's 35-store chain owned by F. and W. Grand-Silver.

La Verendrye's Exploits

In Western Canada Are Honored At St. Boniface

ST. BONIFACE, Man., Sept. 12.—Some 3,500 persons lined the banks of the Red River today to commemorate the arrival of Pierre De La Verendrye, French explorer and trader, at the forks of the Red and Assiniboine rivers 200 years ago.

Six large canoes, manned by thirty painted paddlers, were a long procession that included Mayor LaVerendrye, who was the first to launch carrying off the honor of the day.

Climax of the day's activities was unveiling of the monument sculptured by Emily Brindley, a Montreal, of Lieutenant-governor W. J. P. of Manitoba. The monument, erected to perpetuate memory of La Verendrye, stands in Park park.

Three figures mark the monument. La Verendrye stands in the foreground, a French and Canadian people in the middle ground, and the Indian people in the background.

Speakers at a banquet Saturday night stressed the close relationship of the French and Canadian people in the country. Hon. J. G. Macdonald, dominion minister of public works said when he returns to Ottawa he will be happy to visit the monument. He said he had seen here "an example of the greatest co-operation between the two great races and in fact all races that make up Canada."

Spoken by Comte Robert de la Roche.

THETFORD MINES, Ont., Sept. 12.—Plea for justice and charity in the settlement of social problems were voiced Sunday by Cardinal Norbert Vigneault, archbishop of Montreal, before 400 delegates to the 11th annual Congress of the Federation of Catholic Workers.

His address, responding to the appeal made at a banquet tendered by the city of Thetford Mines, declared a study of the Roman Catholic church's social doctrine was the first step needed in any worthwhile move for social restoration. There were many problems to be solved in restoration, but in the view of the church, application of justice and charity is the only basis for any solution.

The foundation for any society, the labor minister asserted, "lies in the condition that justice and charity both become the concern of the church, the government and of us all." It was erroneous to think justice was the concern of the government and charity the responsibility of the church alone.

The labor minister's first visit to a federation convention, he said, was to the Thetford Mines. We do not all speak the same language, he said, in French and English address, "but a far more joyful than our attachment for any particular province unites us in a strong bond. That is the bond of the human race."

Back from Germany after a series of conferences with German officials, General Vigneault, chief of the French military air service, is shown arriving at Le Bourget airfield. The general was presented with a Nazi decoration by Marshal Hermann Goering, chief of the German air force, during his visit to Germany.

"The building of Canada must still go on. Consideration of an architectural design only, and no reconstruction remains to us."

"Today we have cause to remain together for the church is our common home, and we have a common goal."

The cardinal told the delegates a change in the economic system was not a priori the cause of the day's problems. The real solution would come only when the rich learned they could and must help the poor, and when the poor learned they could help the rich.

There are some who would fight the problem by leaving down the rich," Cardinal Vigneault, member of the imperial Japanese diet, told the closing session of the Oxford movement congress Sunday that peace in Europe may be preserved through efforts of members of the organization.

Kasai added there was a growing sentiment for peace in Japan and that he was returning home with a very keen desire to reconcile the Japanese and the world.

Mrs. Jan Pattin, wife of the Netherlands foreign minister, said she was a change in existing agreements would be sought.

Inter-Lanka, Kassel, member of the imperial Japanese diet, told the closing session of the Oxford movement congress Sunday that peace in Europe may be preserved through efforts of members of the organization.

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—War shadows cast over Europe by the Czechoslovak crisis brought the League of Nations' sanctions dispute to an end before the assembly opened its 19th session today.

A fight over the punitive provisions of the covenant was averted when the "neutral" nations—the United States, the Netherlands and Belgium—decided they would be satisfied with a series of declarations that sanctions against the league was free to decide whether it would join in punitive measures against an aggressor. Their decision meant the league's punitive machinery would be left untouched.

Trailer Judged Home When Man Shoots At Cop

KNOWLEDGE, Sept. 12.—He is ever so mobile a trailer is home, city judge R. A. Murray ruled Sunday in the case of a trailer dweller charged with firing his revolver at a policeman flashed light in the trailer window. The trailer dweller was shot to the right to his protection and he was a judge to decide the matter.

C.N. Exhibition Attendance Mark Broken This Year

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—The Canadian National exhibition grounds, scattered by the tramp of more than 3,000,000 feet in the past two weeks, were deserted today. President George Bragdon officially closed the national exhibition fair Saturday night.

A citizen's day throng of 167,000 booted the total attendance to 1,680,000 persons since opening of 1937. 1,300,000 and $3,500 in excess of the 1936 attendance of 1,680,000.

The "five-day law" would provide that all future union contracts call for a 40-hour week. It would also provide for a change in existing agreements would be sought.
